Orig of attached comments sent with basic correspondence to Houston this date, with note fm Col. White:

"For whatever they may be worth, the attached comments indicate my reaction to this staff study. I imagine there are good reasons for action being taken as it has been, and as I understand it, it is rather late now to try to do anything more than we have already done. However, I do believe that it is necessary for one to read the entire staff study, including the Tabs, to really understand the principles involved and the reasons for our action. I suggest the staff study itself could be revised so that it would be understood by merely reading the two pages without having to read the Tabs. Unless you consider it urgent that DD/A act on this immediately, I would suggest that this be done."
